Allison,

Thanks. Perhaps we should have Diana refer this to PA, so it will take her out of the loop of responding to the press?

Thanks,
Hayley

we can say at this point. -Allison

This is all that

Response: EPA is postponing the Toxic Substances Control Act Science Advisory Committee on Chemicals (SACC) peer review virtual meeting due to recent changes in the availability of members for this peer review. Given the importance of the draft risk evaluation for asbestos, the Agency believes that rescheduling for a time when more members are available is critical and will allow for a more robust review of the evaluation. As a result, the SACC meeting will be rescheduled as soon as practicable.

Thanks Diana. I'm looping in communications again. I think it may be advisable to go through our press folks for this kind of interaction. Allison?

Thanks again.

Hello Steve,

The editor from asbestos.com asked if the postponement is caused by the pandemic.

Thanks, Diana.

I realize the press release doesn't say it, but can you attribute the postponement to the pandemic?

Subject: question about peer review panel

Hi Dr. Wong:

This is Tim Povtak, senior writer at the Mesothelioma Center. We do the website Asbestos.com, an informational source for patients and families.

I was going to write a short story about the postponement of the peer review meeting of the asbestos risk evaluation.

Can you provide a list of the panel members doing the peer review? I apologize if it's already on the EPA website, but I couldn't find it.

Also, if you want to add a sentence or two for my story about the importance of this process, I'd be happy to use it.

Thanks much for all you do.

Tim
